Outside General
Counsel

We help Northwest clients start, operate, buy, and sell companies.

We bring a business mindset first. All of our attorneys have worked as in-house corporate counsel.

We're entrepreneurs as well, having developed other successful companies, so we understand what it's like to be in our clients' shoes. We pride ourselves on our responsiveness and fair, straightforward pricing models.

"A very pleasant experience. I have started more than one business on my own, but never again. NWCL was efficient and attentive. A real pleasure."

We serve Pacific Northwest entrepreneurs and business owners.

We can help you with everything you need to confidently start running your new company from day one. We will help you protect your intellectual property, as well as raise money from friends, family, angel investors, and private funds.

We pride ourselves on being fast, efficient, and responsive.

We try to develop long-standing, personal relationships with our clients, and we've found that it's not too hard to do when we get back to our clients as quickly as possible, answer their questions, make sure they understand all of the work that is being provided to them and offer fair, predictable fees for our services.

We're also tech-savvy, and we've developed our own software and digital services.

If you are in need of our support, we have an experienced team ready to help. To learn more and to set up an initial meeting please visit us at www.nwcorporatelaw.com
